Report of the Director

OVERVIEW

The Agency continued to improve its services and programs both to the public libraries and to state government despite the fact that there was no increase in funding this past fiscal year. State aid to public libraries also remained at the same level as the previous year. In reality, funding for the Agency and State aid resulted in considerably lower purchasing power due to the rising impact of inflation. However, much was accomplished and I feel that the Alabama Public Library Service continues to demonstrate its leadership in improving library services to the people of Alabama.

Some of the accomplishments achieved during the past fiscal year include the following:

- Automation. Alabama Interlibrary Catalog (ALICAT) in 50 locations; CL Systems, Inc. (CLSI) installed.
- A successful Governors Conference on Libraries and Information Services.
- Public discussion statewide on multitype library cooperation.
- Appointment of a study committee by the Governor to develop a plan for formal cooperation among all types of libraries.
- Publications of a newsletter "WhATs LINE" for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.
- Documents department established.
- Establishment of a Humanities Resource Center.
- Grants received from both the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Alabama Committee for the Humanities.
- The 20th Anniversary of APLS as an independent agency.

These and other developments are discussed in greater detail throughout this report.

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

It is difficult to summarize the magnitude of the work accomplished by this division especially considering the loss of staff suffered during the year.

This division of the library is a popular attraction as evidenced by the more than 2,400 people touring the regional library during the year.

A newsletter The WhAT's Line (named by one of the patrons) began publication to serve all the BPH patrons. The newletter is available in large print, braille, or tape.

Cooperation with other state agencies has increased. Brailling for the Secretary of State's Office and the Capitol Building has begun. Also, taping of personnel tests for job applicants who are blind and physically handicapped has greatly aided both the State Personnel Department and the applicants.

The number of active readers continued to increase. The count rose by 33 1/3% to over 6,600. Total circulation increased more than 300% to over 171,000.

The narrator program produced 49 books, articles and magazines in braille or on cassette. Thirty-three (33) open reel tapes, 2,691 cassettes and 2,005 cassette magazines were duplicated statewide.

The automated circulation system for BPH was delayed considerably with the loss of our information systems manager. The position was vacant for several months. Now that the position has been filled, work has resumed and it is hoped that the system will be operating by late Spring, 1980.

LIBRARY AUTOMATION

Since the first edition of ALICAT (Alabama Interlibrary Catalog) was produced in 1978, showing the holdings of Birmingham Public Library, APLS, and seven Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) member academic libraries, the number of titles included on it has increased from 361,000 to 471,000 and locations for individual items from 425,000 to 707,500 volumes. After one year of operation, ALICAT is being used by ten of the fourteen university libraries in the state, six of Alabama's twenty public two-year colleges as well as twenty-eight (28) public libraries which include twenty-five (25) regional libraries that serve over 130 member libraries. ALICAT is the beginning of a statewide union catalog and is also an important tool in interlibrary loan. Information Design Readers (ROM III) which are used to display the catalog are now located in over 50 libraries throughout the state.

In late August, a state contract negotiated by APLS was signed with CL Systems, Inc. (CLSI) to make their automated circulation system available to any library in Alabama at the greatly reduced state price. The first system installed in December, 1979, at the Montgomery City-County Public Library, will be a shared system with APLS.

It is assumed that other libraries will continue to take advantage of the state negotiated price in the future. At a later date, a statewide hook-up with libraries using the CLSI System will become a reality.

The new SOLINET (OCLC) Interlibrary Loan Module is now operational and assisting APLS to better fulfill its interlibrary loan responsibilities.

The on-line circulation system for the Blind and Physically Handicapped department is still in the development stages. This system is being developed in-house but, due to not having an automation person on the staff for several months, the progress on the project has been impeded. However, it is now planned to have the BPH circulation system on-line by late Spring, 1980.

INTERLIBRARY COOPERATION

Five regional hearings were held in conjunction with the State Department of Education during February and March on the Hall Report which recommended the development of multitype library systems. More than 500 people attended, representing all geographic areas, all types of libraries and the library patrons.

One outcome of the hearings was the agreement to establish four groups by type of library to study the Hall Report. These subcommittees will meet to prepare a report for the Governor's Study Committee (mandated by the Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services) to investigate the feasibility of formal interlibrary cooperation among all types of libraries in Alabama.

LSCA grants were awarded to eight regional libraries to provide a reference and interlibrary loan (RILL) librarian. This position is to be filled by a qualified professional MLS librarian. These RILL librarians will play a big role in the improvement and expansion of reference and interlibrary loan activities. The grants are scheduled to begin January 1, 1980.

APLS staff has also worked closely with the Hospital Library Consortium which will allow public libraries to participate in the health sciences consortia soon to be formed. Close liaison was also established with the Lister Hill Medical Library and other health service libraries.

LIBRARY SERVICES AND CONSTRUCTION ACT

In FY-1979, federal funds for public libraries provided by the Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) amounted to $1,156,852 for Alabama. Of this total, $769,248 was awarded to public libraries for various types of local projects; $212,000 was spent on statewide public library projects; and $175,604 was utilized in strengthening the state library agency. Seventy-six (76) grants were awarded to twenty-five (25) public libraries, with one given to support a sub-regional library for the blind and physically handicapped at the Alabama Department for the Adult Blind and Deaf.

For the first time, funds were provided under a special program to upgrade the resource collections of the four largest public libraries of the state — Birmingham, Mobile, Huntsville, and Montgomery. These Major Urban Resource Libraries are preparing special programs which will allow them to serve regional libraries in a better capacity.

Among the statewide projects funded were the following: a contract for an automated circulation system to begin in Montgomery County and expand throughout the state; a continuation of an intensive library seminar for 25 library administrators who do not hold a professional graduate degree; a statewide library trustees' conference at Auburn University; and a study to determine the best methods for extending library services into rural areas of the state.

One of the most important uses of the LSCA funds is the Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped and its seven subregional libraries. This program attempts to serve all the blind and handicapped people in Alabama. While materials are furnished by the Library of Congress, the LSCA funds help to defray the administrative costs for this service.

During 1979, APLS continued to support several LSCA projects of public libraries that provide services to state institutions, i.e., prisons, mental hospitals, and juvenile detention centers. Increased service to the aging was provided with LSCA funds. Lack of a full-time consultant limits what can be done in this area.

As a result of the LSCA funds, Alabama's public libraries made considerable progress toward achieving the goal of providing the highest level of library and information service to all Alabamians. These federal funds which supplement state and local monies, continue to be a vital part of the support of library development in Alabama.

STATE AID

State funding increased from $1,056,438 to $1,377,700 or from 31¢ to 40¢ per capita in FY-1978-79. This was a good increase but, due to inflation, is still not enough to provide significant increases in services, programs, and materials for public libraries.

State funds are used to supplement local funds, not to replace them. These funds are to be used to provide materials and services which would not be available otherwise.

New criteria for the use of state aid funds are now in effect and should help reach the goal of better public library service to every citizen in Alabama.

PUBLIC LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT — PLANNING AND RESEARCH

Construction with federal funds was not a big item this past year. Only Wheeler Basin Regional Library and Hartselle Public Library were able to do any construction, and both were in the second phase of their building programs. Again, both were successful in securing Appalachian Regional Commission grants.

Though federal funds were scarce, three new library buildings were dedicated this past fiscal year. All three were constructed with local funds. In this day and age, that's quite an achievement. The three new library buildings are Sylacauga, Talladega, and Tuscaloosa.

Several communities began planning for new library buildings. These included Grove Hill, Brent, Double Springs, Rainbow City, Pelham; Alabaster, and others. Hopefully, some of these plans will result in actual construction during the next fiscal year.

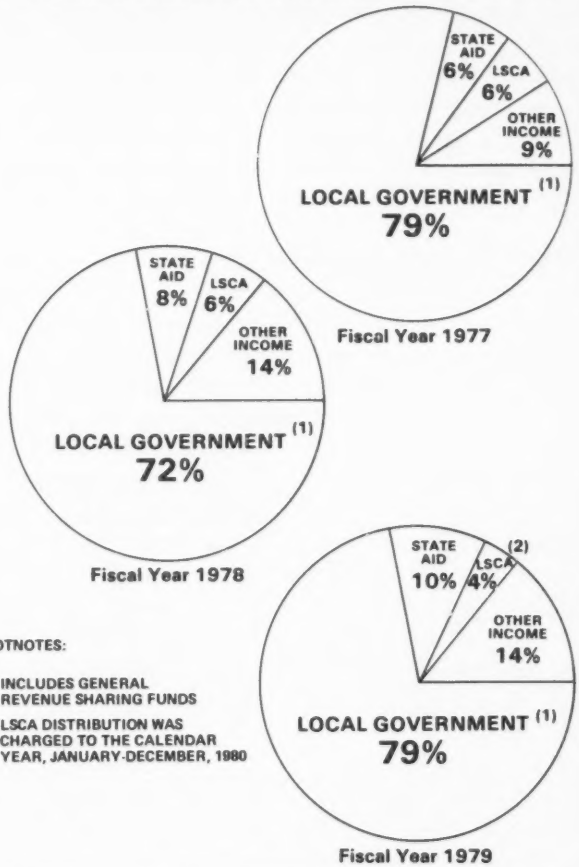
With the formation of Lowndes County Library at Ft. Deposit, all 67 counties in Alabama have at least one public library. This is a milestone that now makes it possible for every Alabama citizen to have access to library service.

Public libraries reported a smaller number of volumes held at the end of fiscal year 1978 than in the previous year. Holdings in periodicals and newspapers and growth of collections also declined. Collections of non-book resources (audio visual and print facsimile) reported some growth. While some of the decline can be attributed to improved accuracy in reporting (especially in book collections), some decline must be attributed to rapid increases in the costs of library resources.

Alabama's public libraries hold a reported 4,705,979 volumes. Collection growth declined by 22% over fiscal year 1977, adding only 248,234 volumes in fiscal year 1978. These data represent only quantity, and it is difficult if not impossible, to assess the quality of the collections in Alabama. However, a statewide average of $6.54 (includes materials and labor) is expended for every volume added to the public library collections. No subject analysis has been done of collections in terms of quality. One can hypothesize without absolute proof that the low volume cost reflects a larger number of high discount titles as well as a large number of gift books, and a conscious decision not to purchase any title that seems expensive. One can further hypothesize that Alabama's public libraries contain a greater proportion of juvenile titles, fiction, and paperbacks than general nonfiction works, and that nonfiction collections are rapidly aging without being replaced.

Public libraries in Alabama continue to be financed primarily by local government. Public library receipts in fiscal year 1978 totaled $12,962,663, an increase of 17% over the previous year. Analysis of the income by source (local government, state aid, LSCA, General Revenue Sharing, and all other sources), reveals a potentially disturbing trend in the source of library funds. The following table compares percentage of income by source for fiscal year 1978 with fiscal year 1977.

PUBLIC LIBRARY INCOME BY SOURCE



FOOTNOTES:

(1) INCLUDES GENERAL REVENUE SHARING FUNDS

(2) LSCA DISTRIBUTION WAS CHARGED TO THE CALENDAR YEAR, JANUARY-DECEMBER, 1980

Percentage of Total Income	Local Government	State Aid	LSCA	Revenue Sharing	All Other Income
1977	70.95	6.16	5.83	8.04	9.02
1978	62.07	8.42	5.66	9.75	14.10

The emerging trend in a change in percentage of funding from local sources to state, federal, and other sources needs monitoring and analysis. The trend should be examined in regional libraries and non-member libraries to determine if significant differences in funding trends exist for the two types of organization.

Part of the trend in changes in funding is an increased use of General Revenue funds in public library budgets. In 1977, General Revenue Sharing funds accounted for 8.04% of total receipts. In 1978, these funds were 9.75% of library income.

Expenditures in public libraries in Alabama totalled $12,695,096 in fiscal year 1978. Of these funds, 57.79% was expended in wages and salaries. Comparing data with fiscal year 1977, expenditures for wages and salaries were up 6%. However, no conclusions regarding salaries for personnel can be determined in this comparison. Although employment in public libraries was up 6%, the shift of personnel to CETA and lack of uniform reporting of these salaries prohibits meaningful analysis.

One general observation may be made about the percentage of expenditures for salaries. Nationally libraries are labor intensive. Total expenditures for salaries frequently account for 70% or higher of all expenditures for library purposes. Adequate personnel remains one of Alabama's greatest needs. There are not enough library personnel, and those that are available are frequently in clerical rather than professional positions. This shortage and inequitable distribution is reflected in a low percentage of expenditures for salaries.

Library materials budgets are losing significant buying power in this period of inflation. Expenditures for books rose by a mere 1% in fiscal year 1978 over the previous year. A substantial increase was reported in expenditures for periodicals and newspapers, the 24% increase reflecting a nationally noted rapid rise in the cost of serials. One interesting deviation from national reports, was a reported decrease in the percentage of expenditures for operating expenses. Public libraries reported that 23.17% of their budget was expended for operating expenses, a 2% decline over the fiscal year 1977 reports. While no substantiating data exists, it can be surmised that this reduction was accomplished through reductions in services in the face of rapidly rising costs for energy.

Currently a study is under way by the Graduate Library School at the University of Alabama to evaluate the effectiveness of various library delivery methods such as bookmobiles, books-by-mail and deposit stations. The results of this study will have a direct bearing on the future of bookmobile service.

The Long Range Program for Library Development in Alabama has been completely rewritten. In addition to meeting the requirements of LSCA, the written document includes our state library program in other areas.

Early in September Hurricane Frederick struck Mobile and Baldwin Counties causing millions of dollars of damage. Unfortunately, our public libraries also suffered some damage. Mobile suffered roof damages to two of its branches amounting to over $40,000 in book losses. Pritchard suffered damages to the main library and one of its branches. Bayou La Batre suffered some book damage. Baldwin County happily escaped serious damages although Gulf Shores suffered some damage to the building. Fortunately, all damages were covered by insurance.

Montevallo Public Library was destroyed by fire. The people rallied to the occasion and quickly found new quarters. APLS was able to assist with an emergency grant of $10,000 to help rebuild the book collection.

PUBLIC INFORMATION PROGRAM

The Alabama Public Library Service has made much progress in the area of public information during this past year. Highlighting the year were such promotional campaigns as the Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services, the 1979 Summer Reading Program, the reinstatement of the APLS newsletter COTTONBOLL, the creation and distribution of informational brochures relative to specific programs and services, and many other activities.

The Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services, held in January, provided an excellent vehicle for APLS in cooperation with all types of libraries throughout the state to promote public awareness of library services — past, present, and future. Media coverage of this event initially focused on the conference itself, but progressed beyond this to the reasons behind the conference: the present state of Alabama's public libraries and their role in providing information to the citizens in the years to come. Newspapers, radio, and television stations spotlighted the activities, with many local media targeting their respective delegates to the conference and the relationship of the local public library to the needs of its citizens.

The interest, awareness, and excitement created during the Governor's Conference continued after the conference officially ended, with the conference participants and public librarians actively seeking media coverage of library programs and events in their respective service areas.

Many positive things came about as a result of the Governor's Conference. It provided us with the opportunity to work closely with all types of libraries and for all of us to better understand each other's particular situations.

The opportunity to work with so many dedicated and interested Alabama citizens was in itself a most rewarding experience. The success of the conference was due mainly because of their strong support and committment for good library service.

A special thank you must go to Bob Ingram, Chairman of the Conference Planning Committee, who devoted a considerable amount of time and effort and whose leadership provided the interest and enthusiasm to make the conference successful.

Additional expressions of appreciation are due to the entire Governor's Conference planning Committees and the APLS staff who worked endless hours in preparing for the Conference.

Twenty-one resolutions were adopted at the Conference. I believe the most important resolution was the one calling for Governor James to appoint a committee to study library cooperation on a statewide basis.

The elected delegates will play a vital role in conveying Alabama's concerns to the White House Conference to be held in Washington, D.C., November 15-19, 1979.

The delegates elected were: Nancy Agnew, Director, Wheeler Basin Regional Library; Geraldine Bell, Coordinator of Media Resources, Birmingham Public School System; Kay Vowvalidis, Trustee, Southeast Alabama Cooperative Library System; Justice Bigbie, Broker, Regal Reality; Sidney Sandridge, President, Athens State College; Jane Mabry, City Council Member, City of Huntsville; Bettye Fine Collins, Chairman, Birmingham Board of Education; William King, Director, Youth Resource Center, Montgomery; and Carl Elliott, Sr., Attorney-at-Law, Jasper. Alternates were Anthony W. Miele, Director, Alabama Public Library Service; Byron Causey, President, Alexander City State Junior College; Truman Pierce, Dean Emeritus, School of Education, Auburn University; William Highfill, Librarian, Auburn University Libraries.

The APLS newsletter, COTTONBOLL, which had suspended publication during the Governor's Conference activities, resumed publication with its January, 1979, issue. With a mailing list of over 2,300, COTTONBOLL serves as a communications vehicle for librarians, friends, trustees, organizations, and others to enable them to keep abreast of programs and projects being carried out not only by APLS, but by the 183 public libraries in Alabama.

Also during 1979, a newsletter was instituted for the patrons of APLS's Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped. Produced by the agency, the "WhATs LINE" carries specific information on programs, services, and other matters relative to the needs of this special segment of Alabama population.

The 1979 Summer Reading Program, "Where in the World," always a successful program, proved doubly successful this year because of a new twist: APLS produced a braille edition of the reading program to allow blind children in the state to participate. This is a "first" for any state library agency. The positive response from the children, their parents, and the news media ensured a continuation of this phase of the program.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

For the third year, APLS is a participant in the statewide committee on Library Continuing Education. The goal of this committee is to facilitate the development of quality continuing education programs for the members of the Alabama Library Community.

In addition to two full-time scholarships for study in a graduate library school with a program accredited by the American Library Association, two part-time scholarships were also awarded.

On the level of actually delivering continuing education programs, the state library agency directly or in cooperation with other state agencies, provided the following conferences and workshops:

Who Runs Your Library 1978? (November 3-4, 1978) A revised and expanded version of the 1977 trustee workshop co-sponsored by the Trustees and Friends and Public Library Divisions of the Alabama Library Association, Inc., the Department of Educational Media and Office of Continuing Education of Auburn University, and the Alabama Public Library Service.

What is the U.S. Government Really Doing? (May 11, 1979) A workshop on federal government documents open to all members of the Alabama library community and co-sponsored by the Government Documents Roundtable (GODORT) of the Alabama Library Association, Inc., Auburn University at Montgomery Division of Continuing Education, and the Alabama Public Library Service.

Intensive Library Seminar-1979 (May 13-25, 1979) The second two-week program designed to acquaint practicing librarians without graduate library degrees with the theories and concepts of public librarianship. This experience is co-sponsored by the Graduate Library School of the University of Alabama through the Division of Continuing Education and the Alabama Public Library Service.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS AND GRANTS

Humanities Resource Center: In April, the Alabama Public Library Service received a grant of over thirty-two thousand dollars from the Alabama Committee for the Humanities and Public Policy. The grant established a Humanities Resource Center to collect, preserve, and circulate media productions funded by humanities grants within the state. This is the first such grant awarded to a state library agency.

In addition to the above, another function of the center will be to develop programs in the Humanities and make them available along with the previously mentioned media.

Humanist-in-Residence: A second year of funding by the Alabama Committee for the Humanities made it possible to continue this outstanding project. This program has succeeded admirably in reaching out-of-school adults.

Energy and the Way We Live: The only state library to receive such a grant which was awarded by the American Library Association. Funded by National Endowment for the Humanities, the grant program seeks to develop a state model for public programming in the humanities through public libraries.

State Data Center: Alabama Public Library Service along with the Alabama Development Office and the Center for Business and Economic Research at the University of Alabama comprise the State Data Center. Alabama was one of six states selected as pilot projects to develop methods of distributing census material and information to the people of Alabama. Workshops and seminars will be held statewide for both dispensers (libraries and regional development offices) and users of data information.

ALABAMA PUBLIC LIBRARY SERVICE

Continued progress in statewide development is made possible by having a qualified staff capable of providing leadership and guidance in statewide library development. This, of course, proves that qualified staff is an essential component of any successful operation. Near the end of the fiscal year, a documents department with a qualified documents librarian came into being. Documents are an essential ingredient in providing needed information. Once this service is in full operation, the benefits will become increasingly apparent.

A Media Consultant also came on board late in the year. The major objective of this program is the development of a statewide 16mm film circuit.

Our personalized reference service for the Legislature and state employees continues to expand dramatically. The addition to our collection of such items as Energyfiche, phonefiche, and the preparation of selected bibliographies has helped to make the above possible.

During the fiscal year, interlibrary loans increased by 34%, circulation by 32%, and the SOLINET interlibrary loan subsystem became a reality. A great deal of time was spent in developing interim procedures for interlibrary loan on ALIN, (Alabama Library Information Network) to be implemented after January 1, 1980.

The Serials librarian position was finally filled in November, 1978. The Serials collection is quickly developing into a good professional collection. It has increased from 779 titles to 1,132 titles. In addition, our microfilm collection has grown accordingly.

Total expenditures for all library materials amounted to $296,867. This is a slight increase over 1978 expenditures.

The Acquisitions department field tested LIBRIS, a commercial automated acquisition system. Though the system had a lot of merit, more refinements are needed before it could be used advantageously by APLS.

Through the use of SOLINET, cataloging for 12 public libraries plus one junior college library was initiated as a pilot project. If the experiment is successful, this service may become permanent and expanded to include additional libraries.

Throughout the state, libraries are benefiting from increased public awareness of the role of libraries in the educational and cultural life of Alabamians. This point was never more apparent than during the Governor's Conference. The need for improved public relations was the number one concern voiced at the Governor's Conference and during the regional conferences as well.

The state LSCA advisory council plays an important role in the development of library service in Alabama. This group of dedicated librarians and lay people by analyzing the grant program for federal funds provide a wide variety of knowledge and experience. They have made it easier for APLS to do its work with a focus on statewide needs.

The Alabama Public Library Service Executive Board consists of James E. Daniel, (Chairman); the Honorable Herndon Inge, Jr., (Vice-Chairman); Mrs. Mildred Phillips; Mrs. Kay Vowvalidis; Mrs. Ann Pritchard. Their dedicated support and concern for library service in Alabama have made possible the continued progress of APLS. Their continued involvement is essential to the well-being and development of libraries in Alabama.

To the Governor and the Legislature for whom this report was prepared, we are appreciative of your continued support of public libraries in Alabama. A great deal of progress has been made but much more remains to be done.

The Alabama Public Library Service has had another exciting and rewarding year filled with many accomplishments which would not have been possible without the cooperation of the Alabama library community, an Executive Board that is truly responsive to the needs of the library user, and a dedicated staff. The coming year will hopefully see more improvements for Alabama libraries and the Alabama Public Library Service.

DEFINITIONS

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1978 through September 30, 1979. Public Library statistics are given in three tables. The first is arranged alphabetically by county of location. The numerical code under Region identifies members of regional libraries and corresponds to the regional statistics in the last table.

The second table provides statistics for regional library headquarters. These statistics are for regional library services not included in the member library reports. For some single county regions (Autauga, Chambers, Cullman, Dallas, Etowah, Houston, Jefferson, Macon, Mobile, Montgomery, Russell, St. Clair, and Tuscaloosa counties) regional statistics are included in the county table listing.

The third table totals statistics for regional headquarters and member libraries. The arrangement is alphabetical by name of region. Grant awards under the Library Services and Construction Act are listed only in Table II, Regional Libraries Headquarters Reports, and Table III, Regional Libraries Totals for Member Libraries and Regional Liqraries Headquarters.

Financial reports were from unaudited accounts, Receipts and Expenditures were not required to balance for this report.

Population reports are from the 1976 estimated population area served by the library.

Total Staff in FTE includes all full-time and part-time staff. A full-time equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Part-time staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Finances are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

Local government receipts are the revenues received from all local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library budget, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

Revenue sharing funds are reported separately.

Other includes funds for personnel under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Wages and salaries reports include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security, retirement, etc.

Report of the Director

OVERVIEW

The Alabama Public Library Service observed its twentieth year as an independent agency of state government with recognition that much has been accomplished to improve the library and information services available to the residents of Alabama. It is the mission of APLS to assure excellent library and information services for all residents of the state and achieving this requires excellent local public libraries since it is through the local library that most people first seek the information they need. By statute, the chief objective of APLS is the development of a cooperative system of providing books and library service for the various municipalities and counties of the state.

Much progress has been made over the years. The number of public libraries has increased so that every major municipality has a public library; no county is without at least one public library facility. Book collections, in both quality and quantity, have increased as has the availability of information in nonprint formats such as 16mm film, video tape, microfilm/microfiche, computer-output-microfilm services, and on-line bibliographic retrieval systems. Library programs extending services to the geographically isolated, the institutionalized, the disadvantaged, and to others who are unserved have expanded. Public libraries, while working to attain the basic levels of services and resources in the local libraries, are voluntarily participating in cooperative efforts to provide a greater level of services for their users.

The Alabama Public Library Service is proud of its leadership over the past two decades and remains committed to expanding and improving programs and services to both public libraries and state government in the future. Despite the fact that state aid for public libraries and the Agency's budget were, for a second year, reduced by proration, a review of the past fiscal year highlights a number of notable accomplishments:

- Development and approval for funding of two projects to demonstrate cooperative multitype library systems.
- Continuation of the work of the Governor's Study Committee on Library Cooperation to develop recommendations concerning the future direction of library cooperation in the state.
- Coordination for the development of "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It.," a cooperative program with the State Department of Education's Adult Basic Education Section to increase public awareness of the problem of adult illiteracy in Alabama.
- Continuation of library automation programs, including the installation of an automated circulation system, on-line bibliographic retrieval data bases, the Alabama Interlibrary Catalog (ALICAT), and the automated circulation system for the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.
- Revision of statewide interlibrary loan procedures and the establishment of the Alabama Library Information Network (ALIN), a statewide network that promotes resource sharing among libraries in Alabama.
- Appropriation of $1,461,910 in state aid for public libraries, although this was reduced by 6% proration near the end of the fiscal year.
- Continued development of the statewide 16mm film service.

These and other programs are discussed in greater detail throughout this report.

LIBRARY COOPERATION

During 1980, the Alabama Public Library Service worked extensively with representatives of academic, school, special and public libraries to develop proposals for projects that would demonstrate cooperative multitype library systems. Two pilot projects, approved for funding from Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) funds, will be organized and governed in accordance with the procedures first described in the 1978 report, A Study of the Organization and Governance for Alabama State Library Systems, the Hall report. For the next three years, the pilot systems will test the proposed model as a mechanism for improving library and information services to the people of Alabama. The proposals developed by participants in the two districts emphasize many of the same priorities but have an element of contrast that will be interesting to observe. Library District III, headquartered in Jasper, will include school libraries while Library District VI, headquartered in Huntsville, will not.

On December 3, 1979, the Governor's Study Committee on Library Cooperation held its first organizational session. The forty-member committee, which includes Alabama's delegates to the White House Conference on Library and Information Services, was appointed by Governor Fob James in response to a resolution calling for increased cooperation among libraries adopted by the Alabama Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services. The Committee is charged with developing recommendations regarding the future directions for formal library cooperation in Alabama. During this past year the Committee analyzed the recommendations of the Hall report, the reports from the four task forces (one task force for each type of library) and other suggestions for library cooperation.

With the assistance of the Alabama Public Library Service and the State Library of Florida, the Florala Public Library, and the City of Paxton, Florida entered into an interstate library agreement. To facilitate future agreements under the Interstate Compact Law, an advisory document, Guidelines for the Development and Approval of Agreements To Provide Library Service Across State Lines was officially issued on April 10, 1980, by APLS in cooperation with the Alabama Attorney General, Charles Graddick. The interstate library agreement between Florala and Paxton is the second for Alabama; the first agreement to provide library services across state lines was adopted in 1976 between the H. Grady Bradshaw-Chambers County Library and the City of West Point, Georgia.

ILLITERACY. WE CAN'T AFFORD IT.

On September 3, 1980, Governor Fob James called a special press conference to launch "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It.," Alabama's statewide public awareness program on the human and economic costs of adult illiteracy.

The effort to achieve adult literacy has long been a part of the library development program at APLS and local public libraries have been encouraged to develop and participate in programs aimed at raising local literacy levels. "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It.," jointly sponsored by APLS and the Adult Basic Education Section of the State Department of Education, produced a film, Private Lives, and public service announcements for television. Workshops for librarians and adult educators were held to make them aware of the campaign and to encourage further cooperation on the local level. Private Lives graphically portrays the costs of adult illiteracy to the community and is targeted for showing to community leaders and other decision-makers.

The public library offers communities another means of providing illiterate adults with the education and services they need. The cooperative approach to community awareness exemplified by this program has also functioned as an effective means of recruiting adult illiterates for Adult Basic Education classes.

LIBRARY AUTOMATION

Efforts to provide the benefits of library automation to Alabama's libraries continued in 1980. Projects begun in the previous fiscal year such as the negotiation of a statewide contract for automated circulation systems and the computer-produced union catalog of library materials continued to develop, and additional projects were initiated.

In 1979, the Alabama Public Library Service had negotiated with CL Systems, Inc. (CLSI) for a state contract to make their automated circulation system available to any library in Alabama at a greatly reduced state price. In fiscal 1980, CLSI installed a system which is shared by the Alabama Public Library Service and the Montgomery City-County Public Library. APLS staff wrote programs for the conversion of OCLC and other MARC records to CLSI format. These programs will be available to other libraries in Alabama to facilitate their own installation of the system.

In 1980, a major change was made in producing the Alabama Interlibrary Catalog (ALICAT), the computer-output-microfilm union catalog. A new state contract with Brodart, Inc. resulted in a lower cost per catalog produced and established a state pricing schedule under which any library in Alabama could contract with Brodart to produce COM catalogs at reduced prices using the ALICAT data base. ALICAT displays 673,226 titles, nearly double the number shown in the first catalog. In addition, the number of libraries contributing to the data base has grown from the initial contributors (Alabama Public Library Service, Birmingham Public Library and the seven Southeastern Library Network member academic libraries: Auburn University, Jacksonville State University, Spring Hill College, Troy State University, The University of Alabama, University of Alabama in Birmingham, and University of South Alabama) to include eleven public libraries, sixteen junior college libraries and one additional academic library. Because no charge is made for adding holding symbols via optical character recognition scan sheets, Alabama libraries have an opportunity to create machine-readable records of their holdings at minimal cost.

The Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET) on-line bibliographic data base continues to make a valuable contribution to Alabama's libraries. Libraries use the data base for on-line cataloging, interlibrary loan, and to assist in verification and acquisitions. Partial funding of membership in SOLINET was made possible through LSCA for the Birmingham Public Library and Mobile Public Library, which provides a means to add their current acquisitions to future editions of ALICAT. The SOLINET (OCLC) Interlibrary Loan Module is an important tool for resource sharing among the libraries in Alabama and for borrowing needed materials from libraries out-of-state. The Alabama Public Library Service will also be serving as a test library for the OCLC Acquisitions Module to determine the feasibility of on-line acquisitions through this bibliographic network. APLS continued providing cataloging services for many of the smaller public libraries. This service is made possible through the APLS membership in SOLINET.

The Alabama Public Library Service negotiated an agreement with the University of South Alabama to cooperatively access the Bibliographic Reference Service (BRS) for on-line bibliographic retrieval data bases. Through this agreement, APLS has on-line access to approximately thirty data bases from which bibliographic data can be retrieved at a considerable cost savings over direct subscription to BRS. Further, the information services provided by APLS make the BRS services available to state government and to the public libraries throughout Alabama.

The level of automation for the Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped has developed to the point that all readers are now assisted with the aid of the computer. The system maintains files of all reader and bibliographic records, books currently in circulation, and all books previously borrowed by each reader. Reader advisors in BPH use the system as an aid in recommending titles suitable for each reader based on the reader profile and to avoid sending titles already read by the reader. Further, the system frees personnel working with readers from routine circulation concerns to insure that personalized services can be offered to the users of the Division's services.

NETWORKING AND INTERLIBRARY LOAN

During this period, networking and interlibrary cooperation in Alabama were strengthened by the revision of statewide interlibrary loan policies and procedures, the establishment of an Alabama Library Information Network (ALIN), and the awarding of eight LSCA grants for the addition of professional reference and interlibrary loan librarians to the staffs of regional libraries.

For a number of years the public libraries in Alabama have had an informal information referral network. In fiscal 1980, procedures for interlibrary loan traffic were developed, and the Alabama Library Information Network was implemented as a statewide cooperative of public libraries voluntarily working together to provide the services and resources needed to satisfy the information needs of Alabama's residents. In January, the Reference Department of APLS began serving libraries as a statewide Resource Center under the revised procedures. Interlibrary loans to public libraries increased by 40% over the previous years.

Although the network was designed to serve public libraries, its services are extended to other types of libraries that wish to work with public libraries in providing interlibrary loan and reference referral services to their users. Through cooperation in ALIN, libraries throughout the state can offer the advantages of new technologies, such as on-line bibliographic retrieval services and interlibrary loan, by computer, to their patrons.

To increase the effectiveness of local libraries in providing reference services and to improve the statewide interlibrary loan network, APLS awarded eight RILL Personnel Grants to Carl Elliott Region, Cross Trails Region, Cheaha Region, Horseshoe Bend Region, Muscle Shoals Region, North Alabama Cooperative, Southeast Alabama Cooperative, and Wheeler Basin Regional Libraries to provide reference and interlibrary loan services to all types of libraries in the service area, reference and nonfiction collection development, reference skills workshops for member librarians, and public relations programs to stimulate use of the libraries' services. APLS also made funds available to upgrade the reference collections in the RILL Service Centers.

LIBRARY FUNDING

The largest amount of state funds ever appropriated for public libraries in Alabama was the high note for the library program in FY 1980. The state aid funds amounted to $1,461,910. By the end of the fiscal year, however, the funds had been reduced by a little more than 6% because of a shortage of tax income to the state. Having budgeted at the higher level, many of the public libraries were forced to curtail services.

Funds from the Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA) continued to play a major role in developing library services in 1980. APLS received 82 proposals for local programs and awarded 71 grants. A total of $769,094 was awarded to public libraries for programs; $390,075 was used for statewide projects including continuing education for librarians and trustees, statewide summer reading program, services to the blind and physically handicapped, services to institutions, the union catalog automation programs, and the statewide information network.

With the assistance and cooperation of the Alabama Development Office, APLS applied for and received from the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) a grant for $147,000 to purchase 'mini' book vans for eight regional libraries located in the ARC area. These vans will be used to further library development in the Birmingham-Jefferson County Library, Carl Elliott Region, Cheaha Region, Horseshoe Bend Region, Muscle Shoals Region, North Alabama Cooperative, Northwest Region and the Wheeler Basin Region. The total project will cost $184,500 with local funds matching $36,900 for the grant. The Appalachian Regional Commission also awarded two construction grants to the Wheeler Basin Regional Library for expansion of the headquarters building in Decatur and expansion of a member library in Hartselle.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

The Alabama Public Library Service remains committed to a strong continuing education program for librarians and trustees in Alabama. Statewide planning for continuing education was advanced by the distribution of the "Alabama Library/Media Continuing Education Questionnaire" and the "Continuing Education Provider Questionnaire" designed to obtain information of the needs of the Alabama library community for continuing education and the in-state resources available to meet those needs. Both surveys were funded by a Library Services and Construction Act grant, administered by the Alabama Public Library Service, and endorsed by the Alabama Association for Continuing Education and Services, the Alabama Chapter of the Special Library Association, the Alabama Commission on Higher Education, and the Alabama Library Association.

In the area of actually delivering continuing education programs, the state library agency directly or in cooperation with other state agencies, provided the following conferences and workshops:

A Community Analysis Workshop was conducted by Roger Greer and Marty Hale of the Community Analysis Research for fifteen public libraries, state library consultants, and library educators. The library administrator and a board member from each participating library received training to enable them to undertake an analysis of their own communities. State library consultants and library educators from Alabama A & M, Auburn University and University of Alabama participated in order to become in-state resource personnel whom public libraries could contact should they require assistance in studying their communities.

The Challenges of Leadership... Trusteeship in the 1980's brought together trustees from all parts of Alabama to explore practical problems against a background of the challenges and opportunities in public library trusteeship. Through the use of the case study method, it assisted the trustees in addressing the contemporary issues of community analysis, funding and budgeting, and censorship.

The workshop was again cosponsored by the Trustee and Friends Division and the Public Library Division of the Alabama Library Association, Inc., the Department of Education Media and the Office of Continuing Education of Auburn University, and the Alabama Public Library Service. Major funding was made possible by a grant from the Alabama Public Library Service under the Library Services and Construction Act.

The third annual Intensive Library Seminar (ILS) was sponsored by the Alabama Public Library Service and the Graduate School of Library Service, and the University of Alabama Division of Continuing Education. This two-week seminar is designed to acquaint practicing librarians without graduate degrees in library science with the theories and concepts of public librarianship. In the three years that ILS has been offered, seventy-two librarians have received benefits of participating.

The Reference Department of the Alabama Public Library Service coordinated a one-day workshop on Local History and Genealogy. The workshop was produced in response to renewed appeals from local librarians for assistance in developing, maintaining, and effectively using collections for local history.

In cooperation with the Alabama State Department of Education, Adult Basic Education Section, APLS cosponsored four workshops to foster cooperative efforts between public librarians and adult educators to increase the effectiveness of programs aimed at promoting adult literacy.

As part of its responsibilities for the State Data Center for census information, the APLS Government Documents section held five workshops on the census throughout the state.

Several workshops were held in conjunction with the Alabama Library Information Network and Reference and Interlibrary Loan Librarian grant program. Reference librarians representing regional public libraries and academic contributors to ALICAT participated in a two-day workshop on reference services in Alabama. The workshop introduced the new interlibrary loan procedures and focused on long range development in reference services in Alabama. In addition, reference librarians also participated in a workshop which introduced new technologies and services which were available through ALIN, such as the SOLINET (OCLC) interlibrary loan and on-line bibliographic retrieval services. Both administrators and reference librarians for the RILL personnel grant participated in workshops to evaluate the policies and procedures implemented for the LSCA program.

The scholarship program awarded two full time and four part-time scholarships for study in a graduate library school with a program accredited by the American Library Association. Recipients of scholarships are committed under the terms of their contract to repayment of the scholarship by working in an Alabama public library.

Finally, in recognition of the effectiveness of continuing education programs for improving staff performance, the Alabama Public Library Service hosted a workshop for its own staff. The two-day workshop, Improving Communication Skills, brought together all librarians on the APLS staff for activities aimed at improving interpersonal communications and enhancing their effectiveness in group problem-solving efforts.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

Like other library programs, the public relations activities of APLS had an active year. APLS was especially proud that a number of its publications received recognition for excellence of design, format and quality of content from the Montgomery Association of Business Communicators, an affiliate of the International Association of Business Communicators. Cottonboll, the APLS newsletter, was awarded a first place for two-color newsletters. In the Special Publications category (two or more colors), the 1979 Summer Reading Program received a first place. Second place in this category was awarded for a full-color brochure describing the programs of the Regional Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped, a division of APLS. Most notable, however, was the award for the 1979 Publication of the Year for the eight-page pictorial tour of the Regional Library, a model barrier-free facility.

During the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services (November 15-19, 1979) the Alabama Public Library Service coordinated a statewide "Be With a Book For A Day" public awareness support program. Alabama's delegates to the White House Conference drew newspaper coverage from various papers as did the many local community leaders who agreed to describe the book that is most memorable to them for their local community newspaper. APLS organized and coordinated the statewide coverage including distribution of thousands of "Be With a Book For A Day" posters and stick-on emblems.

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

The service of the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped continued to expand. The Division circulated nearly 56,000 talking and braille books to its readers. In addition, nearly 2,000 people toured the model barrier-free facility. A total of 2,798 volunteer hours were contributed at an estimated value of $53,500. The Division continued to provide specialized services, braille, thermoform or tape materials for the handicapped and for state agencies serving the handicapped. Regular publication of the Division's newsletter, WhAT'S LINE, began on a quarterly basis. A Consumer Advisory Committee was appointed during the year to provide advice from the user's point of view.

SERVICES TO STATE GOVERNMENT

Great advances were made in providing more services to state government, including the preparation of requested bibliographies, reference and research assistance, and individualized periodical service. In addition, the reference staff provided assistance to several state agencies in organizing their departmental collections. Presentations to many agencies on APLS services were also made during the year. Loans to state employees increased by 46%. A Government Documents librarian joined the staff and a documents program became a reality. The Serials collection has continued to grow along with the addition of major acquisitions in microform. Total expenditures for library materials (books, serials in hard copy and microform) in the fiscal year amounted to $284,955.

AUDIO-VISUAL SERVICES

The state library agency's first Audio-Visual Services Consultant joined the staff at the beginning of the fiscal year. The audio-visual section was reorganized into a separate unit and a number of improvements were made in the area of service. Formal selection policies were developed and adopted. A new booking procedure to be augmented by the CLSI film booking module, was implemented. In addition, 612 16mm films were added to the collection which will enhance the service provided libraries throughout the state. 16mm film circulation increased by a very impressive 21% over the previous year. A comprehensive film catalog using Library of Congress subject headings was begun and will be published in 1981.

HUMANITIES RESOURCE CENTER

The Humanities Resource Center, sponsored cooperatively by the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama and APLS, became fully operational. It has provided invaluable support for public programming in the state and coordinated the successful statewide humanities program, "Alabama, Energy and the Way We Live." Kiosk, the Center's newsletter, began publication near the end of the fiscal year and is distributed to about a thousand women's, social, religious, and civic groups throughout the state.

APLS is the only state library agency in the country with this type of program. Through the center, humanities activities are being developed which will be made available not only to Alabama's public libraries but also to service organizations, clubs, and other not-for-profit groups. Its purpose is to encourage and aid in bringing the humanities to the out-of-school adult residents of Alabama.

CONCLUSION

December, 1979, marked the twentieth anniversary of the Alabama Public Library Service as a separate state agency. To commemorate the occasion, a reception honoring former directors and Executive Board members was held. A slide presentation, developed for the anniversary, highlighted the achievements and progress made in the two decades.

The Alabama Public Library Service was especially proud of the active participation of Alabama's delegates and alternates to the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services. The delegates, Nancy Agnew, Geraldine Bell, Justice Bigbie, Betty Fine Collins, Carl Elliott, Sr., Nancy Gonce, William King, Jane Mabry, Sidney Sandridge, Kay Vowvalidis, and the alternates, Byron Causey, William Highfill, Anthony Miele, Truman Pierce, served with distinction on a number of committees and study groups. In addition, Nancy Agnew and Bettye Fine Collins continue to serve on the national ad hoc committee on implementation of the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services resolutions.

Library services to the residents of Alabama are improving throughout the state. Much of the progress is attributable to the dedication of the librarians and other citizens who work in Alabama's libraries and serve on local boards of trustees. This dedication is felt with great appreciation at APLS. The support and concern for library service demonstrated by the APLS Executive Board made possible the continued progress of the state library agency. The Board members are James E. Daniel, chairman, the Honorable Herndon Inge, Jr., vice-chairman, Mrs. Mildred Phillips, Mrs. Kay Vowvalidis, and Mrs. Ann Pritchard. Their leadership and unselfish commitment to libraries are essential to the development of libraries in Alabama.

A number of advisory committees to APLS play important roles in the development of library services in Alabama. The dedicated librarians and other citizens who donate their time to review programs bring a depth of knowledge and experience that greatly enrich the statewide focus of library services. A heartfelt thanks is extended to those who serve on the LSCA Advisory Council on Libraries, Committee on System Development, Committee on Library Automation, Steering Committee on Library Continuing Education, Advisory Committee for the Statewide Summer Reading Program, Committee for Interlibrary Loan Services, and the Advisory Council for the APLS Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.

To the Governor and the Legislature for whom this report is prepared, your dedication to insure the provision of public library service to the people of Alabama is appreciated. While much remains to be accomplished, your support has contributed to efforts to insure that every resident in Alabama has access to excellent library and information services.

The Alabama Public Library Service has had a rewarding year filled with achievements that would not have been possible without the cooperation of the Alabama library community, the APLS Executive Board, and a dedicated staff. The coming year is filled with anticipation that the library and information needs of Alabama's residents can be more fully met.

Statistical Reports

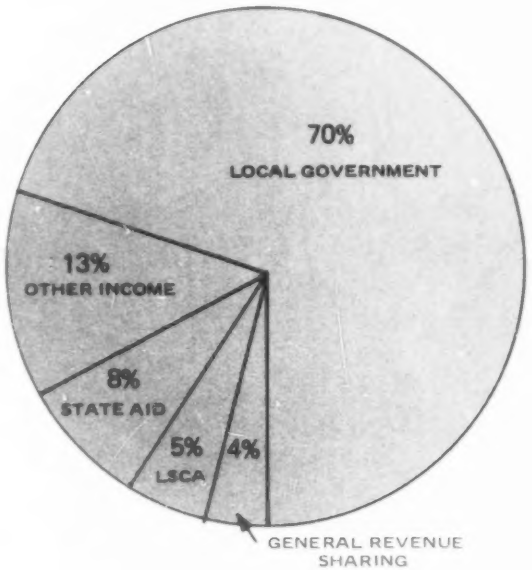
LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Alabama's public libraries hold a reported 5,395,810 volumes or 1.47 per capita using the 1976 estimated population which is the base year for this report. Book collection growth in fiscal year 1980 was small but steady in spite of the rising cost of books and the decline in purchasing power due to inflation. Libraries reported a 28% increase in the number of serials titles, but reported a slight decrease in the number of non-print media held. Circulation of books decreased slightly, echoing a national trend, while circulation of non-print materials increased by 8.6% over the previous fiscal year.

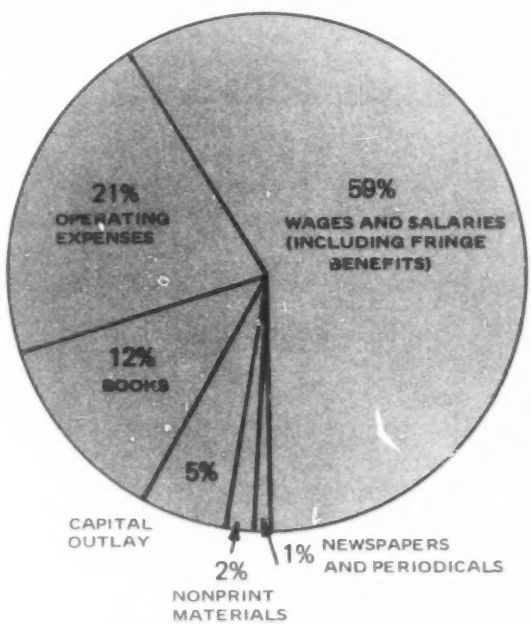
Public libraries in Alabama continue to be financed primarily from local government funds. Receipts in fiscal year 1980 totaled $15,998,253, an increase of only 4% over the previous fiscal year. Analysis by source indicates that local government funds, including general revenue sharing funds, increased by 6%. Other income, including other federal funds such as CETA, increased by 15%. As a percentage of the total public library income, local government and general revenue sharing funds contributed 74% of the public library income. State aid contributed 8% of the total, a decline from the previous fiscal year which is related to the stress on state aid funds caused by proration. LSCA funds contributed 5% and other income contributed 13%. Library income failed to keep pace with the rate of inflation and a number of libraries reported a reduction in services, programs, and personnel.

Wages and salaries including fringe benefits accounted for 59% of the expenditures by Alabama's public libraries in fiscal year 1980. While this percentage increased slightly over the previous fiscal year, there remains a shortage of library personnel and the distribution of personnel in the state is concentrated in urban areas. Materials budgets are losing significant purchasing power. While expenditures for books increased by 3% and for serials by 15%, neither increase kept pace with the rate of inflation for these materials. Expenditures for non-print materials declined by 27% over the previous fiscal year. In a deviation from national trends, libraries in Alabama reported only a 6.6% increase in operating expenses. This slight increase, compared to rapid increases in energy, library supplies, and maintenance costs, may have been accomplished through reduction in hours, depletion of library supplies, and postponement of routine maintenance.

PUBLIC LIBRARY INCOME BY SOURCE FISCAL YEAR 1980



PUBLIC LIBRARY EXPENDITURES FISCAL YEAR 1980



In fiscal year 1980, there was limited construction for public library facilities. New construction included branch libraries for Birmingham Public and Montgomery City-County Library. New main libraries were built for Evergreen-Conecuh County, Graysville, Red Bay and Roanoke communities. Additions were completed for the headquarters of the Wheeler Basin Library in Decatur, Hartselle Public Library, Washington County Library and the Florala Public Library. A building was remodeled for a branch of the Birmingham Public Library. In addition, Mobile Public Library rebuilt the branch wrecked by Hurricane Frederick and Montevallo Public Library relocated after its building was destroyed by fire. Total project costs reported for this construction were $2,361,432, with 55% of the funds appropriated by local government, 17% donated, and 28% from federal funds.

DEFINITIONS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARY STATISTICAL TABLES

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1979, through September 30, 1980. Public library statistics are given in three tables. The first is arranged alphabetically by county of location. The numerical code under Region identifies members of regional libraries and corresponds to the regional library statistics in the last table. Single county regional libraries located in Autauga, Chambers, Cullman, Dallas, Etowah, Houston, Jefferson, Mobile, Montgomery, Russell, St. Clair, Shelby and Tuscaloosa counties report their statistics in the county listing table. Also included in the county table are reports for libraries developing county-wide service cooperative services: Escambia, Marengo, Sumter, and Wilcox counties.

The second table provides statistics for multi-county regional library headquarters. These statistics for headquarters are not included in member library reports in the county listing.

The third table totals statistics for single and multi-county regional libraries. The arrangement is alphabetical by name of region. Grant awards under the Library Services and Construction Act are listed separately only in Table II, Multi-county Regional Libraries Headquarters Reports and in Table III, Regional Libraries Totals for Member Libraries and Regional Libraries Headquarters.

Under Library Resources, microforms and 16mm films are included in Other Non-book Materials in the first table. These are reported separately in the regional totals. The reports do not include 16mm films owned by the Alabama Film Circuit.

Financial reports are from unaudited accounts. Receipts and Expenditures were not required to balance for this statistical report.

Population reports are from the 1976 estimated population of the area legally served by the library.

Total staff in FTE includes all full-time and part-time staff. A full-time equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Part-time staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Finances are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

Local government receipts are the revenues received from all local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library treasury, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

General Revenue Sharing funds are reported separately.

Other includes funds for personnel under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Wages and Salaries reports include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security, retirement, etc.
